There has been many recent expressions of opinion, also, to the effect that the ordinance relating to the use of dimmers on motor headlights is being utterly ignored, and that many night collisions and mishaps were directly traceable to this deviation from the course prescribed by law. The glare of headlights not only blinds pedestrians and keeps them from properly avoiding being run over, it was said, but it is similarly disastrous to other motorists who meet a car with lights blazing full force.

The Non-Parking Law.

The Non-Parking Law.

Another point of vigorous objection among Atlantans—both those who quote their experience as motorists and as pedestrians—is that the recent non-parking ordinances on downtown streets are not obeyed. Citizens complain that here are a large quantity of violators who not only leave their machines or other vehicles parked for a few minutes, but in some instances leave the vehicle in one sprt for an entire day, just as was permissible in the days before the non-parking ordinance went into effect.

One prominent Atlantan said that he had noticed, for the past two weeks, a large, heavy-powered car standing parked in the heart of the downtown traffic center. He said that his car was not temporarily parked, but that it stood at this point through aut the day, and was merely typic; of other instances of the same gind.

Another well-known Atlantan informs The Constitution that on one day last week he saw four cars, new and stripped to the bare chassis, narked in the non-parking zone on Marietta steet, apparently while their drivers were in a restaurant getting these lunch.

Still another citizen calls attention to the fact that he has seen a large ligh-powered car parked continuously in a block of Forsyth street eary day for practically a week. He says that this car is not temporarily parked, but that it stands at the same spot the day long.

banked up in a double line two blocks long on Peachtree street several afternoons ago, says another, because of a laundry wagon which was parked in front of the Candler building.

Each afternoon for the past week, according to the observation of the same gentleman, there have been at least three automobiles, empty, parked in front of the Candler building during the heavy rush that abounds in the "bottle-neck" at that point in the late afternoon.

Fireplugs are also disregarded by motorists, it is said by a gentleman who mentioned an instance when a heavy truck and another automobile were parked for almost an hour on Marietta and Forsyth streets, absolutely shutting off all access to the fireplug at that corner, had an emergency call of the fire department made its use necessary. Hopes to Stabilize Busi-

"He pointed out that President Wilson would be acclaimed throughout the world, as he was being acclaimed in the United States, as the man who had at least been able to accomplish the world's ideal of putting an end to wars.

Delivered Ultimatum

"Will Hays delivered in effect an ultimatum to the republican senators that they must choose between a surrender of power to the democratic party and a deliberate and carefully planned campaign to throw over the treaty of peace and to discredit the president of the United States in order to secure a political victory.

"The choice was made, Partisan advantage was placed first, and the restoration of peace to civilization was thrown deliberately into the discard. This is recognized no longer here, but throughout the world."

Mr. Roosevelt said he expected this disclosure to arouse a "how of protest from republicans in the senate, who were responsible for what I consider a crime against their own country and against the peoples of other nations."

"They will seek to befog the issue," he added, "but the essential fact remains that Mr. Will Hays was employed for the purpose of electing a republican president—the methods mattered not."

BY R. M. STRIPLIN,

Secretary Southeastern Fair.

Everything will be in place at the Southeastern fair, Saturday, October 16, which is opening, instead of preparation day, as it has been in the past. Monday, October 18, which is Atlanta day, will find the fair in full swing, and it is; expected by the management that it will be one of the biggest days of the fair, for there are thousands of people who are not going to take any chances on weather, and are coming Monday because they have positive assurance that every exhibit will be in place and every attraction ready.

A complete fair on Saturday is possible for the first time this year because there is a full week between the close of the Alabams State fair at Birmingham, which releases some of the agricultural and live stock exhibits entered at the Southeastern fair. It even makes it possible for Johnny Jones' carrival to play a pre-fair engagement.

This argusement organization will open at Lakewood on Monday night, October 10, and continue five nights without any admission to the fair grounds. This will give Atlanta a chance to compete with Toronto, where the two weeks' engagement resulted in admissions amounting to $194,290.50.

It must be admitted that there is some merit to a carnival company that can show such results—the answer is that there is nothing connected with any show on the midway that could offend any one. The Jones organization requires almost half as many cars to carry the people and shows as do Ringling Bros. and with the new rail connection completed into the park, this great show can be handled in one-fourth the time that it required formerly.

The Big Pageant.

The Big Pageant.

The Big Pageant.

Since we are to have a pageant on opening night, and October 25 and 26, three nights in all, I have been giving much consideration to the big entertainent feature. I saw the great pageant at Toronto, The Empire Triumphant," and I feel sure that the stage settings in our scenes will be fully as interesting to the people of Georgia, as the historical incidents at Toronto were for the Canadians. We have a setting and background at Lakewood which, if possessed by Toronto, would have added much to their episodes.

The active management of the Southeastern Fair association was very much encouraged by the responses of the civic organizations of Atlanta to the call of President Hastings and Chairman Kriegshaber, of the civic committee, at the luncheon Thursday.

The Southeastern fair has never called on the business men of Atlanta for anything needful without receiving it. We are going to need more revenue this year, and we feel sure of the success of the movement that has been started by the civic clubs of Atlanta to sell fair tickets in advance, for certainly now there is no one who prides themselves on being public-spirited and possessed of the means, who can refuse to buy these tickets. It offers an opportunity for the public, press and pulpit to boost the fair to the limit, for we have the most expensive show that has ever been staged in Atlanta.

When it comes to the amusement features, we present a bill that lasts all afterneon and, it our admission were based on the cost, exclusiveness or novelty, and was staged outside the fair, it would be necessary to charge $4 admission. The Grand Circuit races glone would be $1; the auto polo, $1 our hippodrome acts, $2. Then, at night, we have the fireworks thrown in for good measure.

JABS AT HARDING

Because of Senator's Attack on Shipping Board. White Says Cox Is Friendly to Traveling Salesmen.

New York, September 25.-George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, in a statement tonight, declared that "if the spirit of fairness and truth governed Sentor Harding in his campaign, he would not have been guilty at Marion yesterday of his unprovokable attack on the shipping board and his attempted disparagement of one of the real facts of the adminstra--the upbuilding of the Amerian merchant marine." The statement continues:

"One of the great problems of a administration," "would be to turn the 12,000,000 tons of war-created shipping into effective agency of widened American commerce in peace. 'I do he added, 'of a single feature of the present administra-tion, comparable to that of the United States shipping board.'

"As usual, the facts are in conflict with the senator's statements. Prior to this administration, only 8 per cent of American borne commerce was carried under the American flag. Now more than 50 per cent is so carried. Our flag goes to every port in the world, waving over American ships, and our merchant marine is second only to Great Britain's. From 316,000 gross tons production, in 1914, we have gone to 4,000,000 tons, in 1919, and 200,000 now toil at shipbuildwhere but 50,000 were employed six years ago.

Democrats and Merchant Marine. The merchant marine has flourished particularly under democratic administrations. During the first half of the nineteenth century our flag fluttered at the masthead in every port; in the latter half it was suffered to disappear. The democrats had no sooner resumed power in 1913 when measures to promote his power of the power in the measures to promote with power in the measures to promote with the measurement of administrations. The war came, deflecting funds and gradually raising prices. Two years later the great fire swept away about 1,600 dwellings. The bottom was reached in 1918, when only 255 permits were issued for dwellings and 42 for apartments. The latter had been evidencing a slow increase through the entire war period.

Officials made a rough average of apartments as being the equivalent as housing means, of twelve dwellings. As a standard take the year 1910, without allowing for a normal increase in the monthly average, showing an issue of 1,327 dwelling permits. Also make a liberal estimate for the year 1920 of 700 dwelling permits which equals, considered from the standpoint of housing human beings, 1,300 dwelling units.

With the above estimates as a rough basis and applying the same principle to each year, it is found that from 1914 through 1920 Atlanta has a shortage of 2,458 homes, which, at the present rate of building, will require approximately 2.05 years to make up. The shortage in actual dwelling buildings is 6,190, but the estimated correction of apartments reduces this figure to that stated.

Since 1910 there have been some-where in the ne shborhood of the equivalent of 11,13 dwellings erect-ed, including apartments as equal equivalent of 11,13 dwellings erected, including apartments as equal to twelve dwellings. In that time more than 54,000 people have been added to the community. Judging by the past these facts would indicate that the number of houses for the period specified should have been 13,611, as a bare minimum to meet actual housing demands.

These figures are subject to the inaccuracies occasioned by boarding houses, hotels and the estimated capacities of apartment houses. Despite this error they are correctly significant of the general situation. The following tabulations are accurate:

Governor Dorsey Will Speak

tracting much interest throughout the state.

A committee of 200 citizens, members of the Advertising Club of Atlanta, the chamber of commerce, and other civic organizations, has been appointed to raise the quota of Fulton county. Many representative citizens from all over the fifth agricultural district have accepted invitations to attend the conference Tuesday. The counties in this district, with their quotas, are: Fulton $40,000, DeKalb $7.000, Gwinnett $2.000. Rockdale $1.000, Newton $2.200. Walton $2,400, Barrow $1.300. and Mitton $700.

The fund to be subscribed and invested in advertising Georgia's opportunities has been fixed by the executive committee at $300,000, and Governor Dorsey's as general chairman, has proclaimed October as the fund is to be raised.

The response to the governor's addresses on the advertising project has been enthusiastic wherever he has spoken, and many counties have pledged their quotas for the first week in October. Several committees have already reported the subscribtions in hand.

The constant immigration of farmers to California and to west-tees have already reported the subscriptions in hand.

The constant immigration of farmers to California and to western Canada indicates that new homes and new opportunities are heing sought by many thousands. Those who have visited Georgia have declared that this state has everything to offer the farmer that is offered by California or Canada and many advantages not offered by those sections.

The "advertise Georgia" enterprise is the joint effort of the Georgia association, a permanent organization devoted to the development and advertisement of the state, and the advertising clubs of Georgia, which will entertain next June the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Georgia will be the first state officially to undertake an advertising campaign although numerous American cities have invested large sums in advertising and reaped satisfactory results.

Having spent its days on this earth, through a summer resplendent with sun and moons, which have aided Dan Cupid in his delicate work, the straw hat must now pass away, for the coming of fall, as it heralds cold waves of winter, has delivered its edict for velours, felts and derbies to be ushered into the fashion row.

'Tis a sad tale. Funeral services over all that is left of the brownish colored straws will be solemnized in almost every residence in Atlanta between Sunday and next Thursday. The interment will be according to 'choice—in the old trash box, or the cedar chest—for next season.

According to custom, since the first straw hat was glued and sewed together. September 15 is the date when the faithful sun protectors of all varieties, shapes and sizes must cease to be in style.

But this year summer is still clinging to the south, and as a result the straws are still favorites with many Atlanta men, despite the fact every men's furnishing store in the city has had on display for two weeks the new fall styles. The long summer has brought more straw-hat sales than any of the recent years, according to merchants, and now when the first touch of fall weather brings joy to the coal dealer, as he pictures families enjoying the warmth of firesides and roaring furnaces, the time has come to discard the old straw.

Though this is a sad tale, it is also one full of satisfaction, since the year has brought a record straw-hat season for the merchants. The old straws should be allowed to rest, says Dame Fashion's husband, and when she speaks through him one can rest assured "it must be done."

So, leave the old lid at home after next Thursday. No need to worry if you leave it there without your presence. It cannot talk, so it can't tell what it knows.

APPEAL PLANNED IN BIG TAX CASE

Fight on State Equalization Law Lost by Butts County Citizens Saturday in Griffin Court.

After having failed Saturday in heir efforts to enjoin the board of assessors from complying with the order of State Tax Commis sioner H. J. Fullbright to increase the county's tax returns 40 per cent, the citizens of Butts county interested in the proceedings indi-cated they would take the case to the supreme court for final de-cated they would take the case to the supreme court for final decision.

The petition was heard Saturday at Griffin by Judge W. E. H. Searcy, of the Flynt circuit, Attorney General R. A. Denny representing the state, while the tax commissioner was also present. There is considerable interest in the case, as seval other counties have their cases under consideration by boards of arbitration.

Butts county was notified by the tax commissioner the first of this ear, along with a number of others, that an increase in tax returns of 66 per cent would be necessary for equalization purposes, but when the digest was filed with the state official it was found the increase was only 15 per cent.

Mr. Fullbright then gave notice that a further increase of 48 per cent was necessary. The board of assessors demanded arbitration, and officials to act for the state and county were appointed. The demand was withdrawn August 25, according to Mr. Fullbright, and a new order was passed reducing the required increase to 40 per cent.

Several days later a bill seeking to enjoin the board of assessors from complying with the order was filed in court, and the commissioner, it is said, was served with a copy of the proceedings.

At the hearing in Griffin Saturday the petitioners' principal attack on the equalization law of 1913 was that it does not provide for notice to individual taxpayers, or a hearing on an order for increase when made by the state tax commissioner on a county as a whole. By amending the bill, an additional attack was made on the law, with the contention it does not provide a uniform method of assessing private property and property of corporations.

Corporations are required to return their property for taxes to the comptroller general. Private property is returned to tax receivers and subject to the terms of the equalization act, while the property of corporations is not subject to the law.

Two years ago today, September 26, saw the beginning of the end. In the Argonne forest, west of the Meuse, the American army began its hard-fought, grimy but glorious rush through the death and desolation of the woods to the victory and satisfaction that lay beyond.

It was then that the great drive began which whipped the Boche steadily back until he was forced to abdicate his haughty and empty position as a military menace to the world. > Parent-Teachers' Body Plans Active Program For Next Year's Work

Many new members were enrolled at the first meeting of the year of the Forrest Avenue Parent-Teachers' association last week. Vacancles in the official circle were filled and plans for an active and progressive year in behalf of the school were discussed.

Mrs. R. F. McCormack presided and announced that the resignation of Mrs. A. L. Drake as president and the death of Mrs. L. A. Trowbridge, the treasurer, left vacancles to be filled. Mrs. J. Foster Hawthorne and Mrs. E. A. Wood, Jr., were elected to the respective offices. Appropriate resolutions on the death of Mrs. Trowbridge were adopted.

Mrs. Hawthorne announced chairmen of standing committees as follows: Social, Mrs. W. N. Jackson: rembership, J. A. Rolleston; press, Mrs. M. E. Ailes; program, Mrs. R. F. McCormack; grounds and building, Mrs. W. B. Symmers.

In an effort to broaden the scope of the work of the organization it was decided that the Forrest Avenue association should join the city and state federations of women's clubs.

Officers of the association for the ming year are: President, Mrs. J. Hawthorne; vice president, Mrs. F. McCormāck; secretary, Mrs. E. Ailes; treasurer, Mrs. E. H.

$15,000 IN DAMAGES ASKED FOR YOUNG BOY

The city of Atlanta is the defendant in a $15,000 damage suit filed in the Fulton superior court Saturday, by H. L. Hurd, as next friend to his son, Robert, 3 years old old.

The petition sets out that on April 16, 1920, the little boy fell into an excavation at the corner of Beckner and Everhart streets, breaking his left leg below the hip. The claim is made in the suit that the city made the excavation in fixing a sewer and the workmen, employees of the city, had packed the dirt so loosely that it washed away, leaving a hole eight feet deep.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very careully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp. makes the hair brittle, and ruins it The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful of mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanur oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—(adv.)

"Mr. Walker makes reference to the nitrate plant bill. This proposed in the nitrate plant bill. This proposed it is ancient history. The bill passed, the plant was erected at Muscle Shoals, Ala. Many millions were wasted on it, and so far as I can see, or have ever heard, nobody, farmer or anyone else, ever got anything out of it. As usual, the long-suffering taxpayer paid the bill for a piece of cheap demagoguery. The bill would never have helped the farmer in any event. It merely proposed to manufacture the raw material for the fertilizer manufacturers. They might have gotten something out of it, but I doubt if they would have passed much, if any of it along to the farmer."

this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in dedication of the "Elks' Rest." the burial lot of the Elks, on which a handsome monument has been recently erected.

The Elks have a pretty lot at West View, on which two or three members were buried a few years ago, and on which they have room for a dozen or more graves. All burial grounds for the order are known as "Elks' Rest," and it is expected that a large number of the local order will attend the dedication.

"When some one, far from home, advertises a real, bona-fide proposition, upon the ground floor of which he wants to let you in, you in the first the head better look out." says a bulletin from the national virilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, just received by Dave W. Webb, president of the Atlanta club.

The stock selling operations of called glass casket companies, in various parts of the United States, have been under investigation by the national committee for some months. With the result that in each of the vectors are flatily warned to beware known as "Elks' Rest," and it is expected that a large number of the local order will attend the dedication, as a most impressive ceremony is prescribed in the ritual of the order. The Elks' band of thirty pieces and the famous Euks' quartet will render appropriate selections. Notwithstanding the rule of admission for atuos to West View, it has been arranged with the cementary officials to admit all Elks and their families and others interested in the dedication who attend in motor cars, and the public is cordially invited.

Charges and Counter-Charges Mark Political Developments of Saturday, When Walker and Hardwick Issue Cards.

Charges and countercharges marked the political developments of Saturday with Thomas W. Hardwick harging Clifford Walker with misrepresenting his record and brandng him as a "cowardly slanderer." while the latter in a strong statement declares the ex-senator is throwing out a smoke screen to divert attention from his record and ridicules the suggestion that he is controlled by any political ring.

do so to my back. In the newspapers.

"Again he mistakes the facts about every bill to which he makes reference. The parcels pst system, as now established by law, was first authorized in a postoffice bill that became the law while I was a member of the house of representatives. (Not the senate. The provision establishing it was put in by the conference. I did not vote against the conference report, and consequently did not vote avainst the parcels post system, but I had many times before that, and since that, in both houses of congress, opposed too high a weight limit, according to my judament, and because I did not believe it ought to be left to the discretion of an executive officer (the postmaster general).

"Mr. Walker makes reference to Mr. Walker again charges the exenator with having allowed his friendship for trusts, moneyed inerests and lack of interest in the masses to ruin his record as a representative of the voters in the house of representatives and the senate. He declares that with "the oomb throwers abroad in the land, the people are not going to elect the pald attorney of these foreigners as their governor."

In his statement Mr. Hardwick repeatedly refers to the so-called Howell machine, and denies he voted for the espionage bill. He also defends his votes on other measares while in congress and senate, and closes his statement with characteristic sarcasm.

Mr. Walker will probably anounce Monday the dates of his speaking engagements between now and the date of the primary, he stated last night, while Mr. Hard-wick and Thomas E. Watson will appear together at several Geor-gia towns during the week, the latter having agreed to take the stump in the interest of the ex-senator's campaign.

Walker's Statement. Mr. Walker's statement is as fol-

"I call attention to the continued effort of Mr. Hardwick to becloud the real issues of this race by the use of the smoke screen of minor matters, as, for instance, the charge that I am controlled by rings and have promised to appoint Mr. Clark Howell, Mr. Albert Howell or Governor Dorsey to the United States senate. This suggestion of administering the estate of Mr. Watson during his lifetime will be resented by Mr. Watson's friends as well as my own friends, who know that I have always carried my races directly to the people: and, further, that I am sincere when I say, as I have continued to say, that I have made no one promise of appointment to office. Another instance is the charge of fraud in the Bartow county election. Mr. Hardwick gave out to the press advance copies of his speech charging fraud, while he admitted in Cartersville to the managers of the election that there was no fraud, the facts being that the suggestion as to postponing the count and the handling of the ballots was made by Mr. Hardwick's own manager.

"These are vitally serious times. When the foreign bomb thrower is abroad in the land, when anarchists and bolshevists are becoming bolder and bolder each day, invading Georgia with their propaganda, the sober minded people are pausing to think, and to think seriously. They will never elect as their governor the paid attorney for these foreigners. The smoke screen of minor issues will not lead them astray. The yare thinking today of two main issues: "I call attention to the continued

"First, the sincerity of the man. The sovereign people of Georgia will never select a man governor of this state who is guilty of such palpable moral fraud and such political misrepresentation as to base his entire campaign upon denunciation of a federal law alleged to have encroached upon the right of free speech, free press and free assembly, in order to curry favor with the voters, when as a matter of fact he voted for the very measure which he now denounces, the measure known as the espionage act. The people are referred to The Congressional Record, page 3665, February 20, 1917, for the vote. Mr. Hardwick dodges this issue and seeks to escape by ignoring it in his Cartersville speech, but the people will not overlook this record. "Second, his record in congress in the interest of the trusts and big business against the common people of the state. (1) He was the constant advocate and supporter of the sugar trusts. The criminal extortion practiced by the sugar kings ever since now rises up to damn his record. (2) His vote against the shipping bill, when the lack of ships in 1914 beat down the price of cotton to five cents a pound, when ships could have been purchased at $20 a ton afterwards bought by the government at $250 per ton. Mr. Hardwick was the guest of the shipping trust magnates of Pittsburg at a banquet on the evening after this vote was cast. (3) His vote with the Tertilizer trust against the nitrate bill and against the interest of the farmers for cheaper fertilizer. An advance of $10 per ton in the cost of fertilizer over the price of a year ago, while the price of cotton is steadily falling to ruinous figures, again darkens his record. (4) His fight against the interest of the farmers of Georgia will resent his grave discourtesy, if not positive insult, when he said that the farmers were always laying around congress with their mouths open like hungry birds asking for favors. Certainly they received scant assistance from him, as his secord against the interests of the farmers so brazenly disclo "First, the sincerity of the man The sovereign people of Georgia will never select a man governor of this is as follows:

"The most recent performance of
Mr. Clifford Walker is his most sur-

"The most recent performance of Mr. Clifford Walker is his most surprising performance. After having traduced me all over Georgia, perposely misrepresenting my views, conduct and official record, he showed the white feather and declined to debate, face to face, with the man whom he had villified and slandered. Declining man-to-man debate in public, he now apparently seeks newspaper debate with me. By engaging in a newspaper debate, he can have the assistance, in the preparation of his "cards" of the able and unscrupulous "inner circle" of the Howell machine, and is not thrown wholly on his own resources. This accounts for his conduct, "Mr. Walker charges me with having voted for what he calls the "esplonage law" on February 20, 1917, and cites The Congressional Record of that date to prove it. This is a silly mistake and does not do credit to either the accuracy or intelligence of Mr. Walker's "board of strategy." What is commonly called the "espionage law" was passed by congress after we declared war on Germany (April 6, 1917), and not before we entered the war. The bill to which he reference became the law and failed of passage. The act we did pass was the act approved June 15, 1917, and was known officially as house of representatives bill 291. To nursh acts of interference with the foreign relations, the newtrality and the foreign commerce of the Unite

States, to punish espionage, and helter to enforce the criminal laws of the United States and for other better to enforce the criminal laws of the United States and for other purposes."

As the title indicates this was an offinibus criminal code bill, containing many important and necessary provisions, punishing overt acts. It consisted of thirfeen separate and distinct chapters, covering many provisions for the nunishment of all sorts of overt acts of a criminal character, besides the espionace provisions. In the opinion the only provisions of doubtful character in the bill as finally passe; were the so-called espionage provisions. The other provisions were absolutely necessary.

"When Mr. Walker states, "It is a fact that in ever yissue which involved large financial interests, coming before the senate duting his inclumbency of office, Senator Hardwick was invariably to be found on the side of his money, speaking, voting and lobbying for their benefit; he descends to the plane and level of a common liar, and as such I denounce him. No man can make a statement impugning my integrity I nany such way as this. Mr. Walker has never seen the day when he had the courage to do so to my back, in the newspapers.

Describing a meeting of Koreans he addressed in Seoul, which was broken up by the Japanese police, Representative Hugh S. Hersman, of California, said:

"The meeting was absolutely non-political, but simply a welcome to the Americans. The Japanese police adopted measures of extreme brutality in arresting the Koreans. I myself rescued one man who was being kicked. I refused to leave until all had been released, which finally was done."

Mr. Hersman said he left the congressional party in Korea and refused to be the official guest of the Japanese government after his experiences and his observations in wounded Robert B. McWhorter Greene county commissioner, today shot and killed Felix Cremer, a nagro. Cremer was accused of harboring Wright and aiding him to make his escape.

Nothing has been seen of Wright since late yesterday, when he exchanged shots with his pursuars. The negro was tracked into Oconge county and he was being followed there tonight. Doctors say that McWhorter will recover.

McWhorter ordered the negreaway from his plantation today, and he returned and opened fire.
Persons, who ran to the aid of McWhorter, disarmed the negro, and it was said beat him severely.
Wright was left ror dead, but when search was made for his body after McWhorter had been carried to his home, it was discovered the negro, had gotten away.

Wright was traced into a swamp by his pursuers and they were so hot upon his trail that about sixty.
The negro is armed with a repeating rifle and a revolver, which he obtained from his father's house after he shot McWhorter.

"No car," says The Motor of London, "is perfect, and none ever will be; but the Model 59 Cadillac approaches that ideal as closely as any other car on the market regardless of price or size"

Extract from an editorial article published August 4, 1920, in The Motor, the National Motor Car Journal of Great Britain.

This remarkable tribute from a nation which never lightly bestows approval, but in a spirit of sportsmanship always admits and admires a superior achievement, releases us, we feel, from a reticence which has always governed our references to the Cadillac.

The truth of the matter is that we have never expressed to the American people our own deep and innermost convictions concerning the Cadillac.

We have refrained, from a sense of decent restraint, and because we have always felt that the Cadillac was its own most eloquent exponent.

But we feel, now, that we owe it to more than a hundred thousand American owners of the present type of Cadillac, to share this tribute with them, and at the same time, to set down, once and for all, an honest belief concerning it, which we are certain they share with us.

Heretofore, we may have seemed to consent, by our silence, at least, to the suggestion that a car equaling the Cadillac might possibly be bought at a considerably higher price.

Resting on the generous admission of our English friends, we want our real feeling in the matter to go on record for all time:-

If it was never proven before, we firmly believe the last three years have demonstrated, beyond the possibility of doubt, that, regardless of price, the Cadillac is the best car in the world.

Day after day, throughout these three years - in fierce competition with the world's best in the world's war-traveling side by side with the very flower of French, English, Italian, and American manufacture -here at home, month after month -in tens of thousands of handsthe Cadillac has proven that money cannot build or buy a better car.

We who build the Cadillac have never wavered for a moment in this conviction.

We share it now, with our friends, because we are sure that they, too, will derive from this unparalleled European tribute, at least a little of the deep satisfaction which it brings to us.

It will be our pleasure to quote further from European comments on the Cadillac in subsequent announcements, and to give you some of the reasons for the faith that is in us.

general market closed weak at a decline of 22 to 70 points on all months except. November, which showed a net loss of 120 points.

The market opened irregular at a decline of 110 points on November and of 5 to 45 points on other positions. With near months relatively weak on the declines reported in southwestern spot markets late yesterday and increasing apprehensions that cotton would be shipped here for delivery. There was also selling on the continuation of the price cutting movement, throughout the country, as indicated by early newspaper reports and weekend trade reviews, but the early offerings were absorbed by the realizing purchases of shorts and buying for a reaction. After selling at 23.03 early, January worked up to 23.20, but even this moderate bulge seemed to meet renewed pressure from the south, and the market became very weak after the demand from shorts had been supplied.

Heavy New Orleans selling here was supposed to represent the reselling of hedges against cotton in the interior, while bearish sentiment was encouraged by favorable weather accounts and rumors that there might possibly be a hitch in the postbonement of the British coal troubles. Fall River reports estimated sales of print cloths for the week at 120.000 pieces, with an advance of 1-2c in prices on the average, as compared with the previous week, but the local goods market was reported easier yesterday and Manchester trade advices were unfavorable. It is reported that worsted mills idle since last July will resume operations at Manchester, N. H., on Monday.

Owing to its effects on many other lines, there is the same tendency on the part of benking and credit authorities to watch developments in retail trade with an anxious eye. The overalls movement last spring was a symptom of the protest against high prices, and while it never reached material proportions, it was one of the many straws which indicated the wind which blew down prices for a while. It may well be that the spreading movement in many of the larger cities of people who work taking their lunches with them to avoid paying high prices in eating houses is only a symptom, but at the moment the greatest complaint is over high food prices.

Bond Buying Continues.

Investment buying of high grade bonds continues, with evidences that it is to continue. It has been said that there never again will be such an opportunity to get good bonds on such high yield basis, and while there will undoubtedly be times of such conditions again, they may not come for many years.

Fair demand for copper is noted in this country and moderate export demand conteinues, but there is as yet no sign of the big buying movement for which producing interests have been preparing. It is reported that predictions have been made, however, that this buying will appear within the next thirty days, and that on it there will be a fair advance in prices, probably to above 19 1-4 cents a pound At present, the leading interests say that they will not sell at under 19 cents, but small dealers are selling.

No Evidence of Stop In Price Dropping, Says R. G. Dun Report

That there has been no perceptible

That there has been no perceptible check to the downward readjustment of commodity prices is indicated by the fact that Dun's list of wholesale quotations this week, for the nineteenth consecutive for the nimeteenth consecutive week, discloses more recessions than advances, the former numbering 51 and the latter 21. Generally favorable weather, reports of satisfactory harvesting conditions in most sections, and a disappointing foreign demand had a depressing effect on grain markets, and more or less yielding appeared in wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley. A shortage of supplies caused a sharp upturn in the finer grades of table butter, and a similar influence resulted in a substantial rise in eggs, while cheese was firmly held. In live meats, beef and hogs declined under pressure of more liberal offerings, and, though receipts of sheep were hardly in excess of requirements, prices showed some reduction. Provisions developed an easier tone, reflecting the situation in raw material. Quotations of iron and steel held steady, and no change of moment occurred in the minor metals. The trend of the cotton goods markets continues reactionary, while the yielding in hides and leather has not yet ended, and rubber prices lack firmness. A better feeling, however, seems to be developing in silk. discloses

DUN'S REPORT SHOWS INCREASED FAILURES

Commercial failures last week in the United States, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., were 188, against 137 week before last, 125 in the preceding week and 123 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 13, against 24 week before last, 14 the preceding week and 22 last year. Of failures last week in the United States, 78 were in the east, 46 south, 29 west and 35 in the Pacific states, and 98 reported liabilities of $5,000 or more, against 80 the preceding week. Next the question was put as to how far the reaction now going on in general business would go. By way of answering this the banker asked a question.

"What extent is labor going to be liquidated? Next, how far will the reaction under way in general trade go?

With the Washington dispatch giving the details of the increase in unemployment in hand, your correspondent dropped in to talk with one of the biggest bankers in Wall street, a man who because of his large personal interests in railroads, industrial companies and financial institutions keeps in the closest possible touch with what is going on. Substantial losses are being taken in all departments of the trade and the readjustments have become so radical that credit conditions in first hands will provoke further cancellations among retailers and lead to demands for rebates on goods already delivered.

Prints and percales have not been revised by the large printers, but converters of these goods are offering them a third under printers' last prices.

The volume of business has shown a little improvement, although new orders have been small and generally of a filling character. The break in the cotton during the week and slow buying movement noted in crop circles were additional factors causing hesitation.

McCord, chaffman of the board and federal reserve agent: Ward Albertson, assistant federal reserve agent. Report covers period to September 25:

The loans of the member and non-member banks of this district, as well as those of the Federal Reserve bank, zre at a high level for the season of the year. However, it is also true that the deposits and total resources are at a high level. This condition does not materially change the ability of the banks in the district to handle the crop moving from those of former years, and no anxiety is being felt for financing. When the movement of cotton gets well under way, liquidation should be greatly relieved.

Trade Reports.

All reporting department stores in the district show increases in sales during August over the previous month and over figures for August, 1919. Percentages of increases over August, 1919, range from 8.4 percent to 46.8 per cent. An increase is likewise shown in the stocks on conditions in the Sixth Federal Re-

An increase is likewise shown in the stocks on land over August, 1919, of 32.8 per cent.

Reports from wholesale grocery from show that great caution is being exercised by both wholesale and retail stores, and the trend of prices is definitely downward, although some items show increases during the month.

Reports from wholesale hardware firms vary as to future prices. Tennessee firms report a slight tendency of prices to advance to cover the freight rate increase. In Florida there is some opinion prices will come to lower levels, while other reports predict advances.

Agriculture.

The following table shows the condition of the cotton crop in the states of this district on August 25, condition declined in some countries as much as 13 or 14 points. At the time of the report the condition was still declining. Continuous rainy weather the early part of September has no doubt increased the activities of the boll weevil and caused continued shedding and boll rot.

Financial.

The movemnet of crops, while not yet at its height, has caused quite a heavy demand for funds which will continue for several weeks. The supply of money appears to be sufficient to meet the demand from all legitimate sources. The banks are scrutinizing very closely all applications for loans on securities, and are denying all loans for speculative purposes.

missioner as the cause of the bank's actificities as the reason for his action.

Opinion that a half million dollars of state funds on deposit in the bank was absolutely safe, announced by State Treasurer Jackson, gave depositors reason to feet that their money was not greatly endangered.

The bank commissioner, in his formal statement explanatory of the cloing, declared no other bank or trust company was involved in any way. His action today marked the sixth time within a year, and the fifth within two months, that the doors of a banking institution in this city have been closed by him. The continued drain on the Cosmopolitan's resources, which have been advertised as $20,0000,000, was shown in the statement by Bank Commissioner Allen of deposits on several dates. Between September 8 and yesterday, withdrawals of deposits amounted to more than three million dollars, according to his figures.

The Cosmopolitan is the fifth bank in this city to be closed by Commissioner Allen in the last five weeks. The first of these was the Hanover Trust company, which went to the wall with the collapse of the get-rich-quick scheme of Charles Ponzi, its largest individual depositor. The Prudential Trust company was closed later, as were two smaller private banks.

New York, September 25.—Ten out of fourteen representative industries showed a decrease in the number of employees on the pay roll for the month of August as compared with July, according to figures published this wee' by the department of labor at Washington. Reports were also received here in Wall street from reliable sources in Chicago and other railroad centers to the effect that the volume of merchandise traffic for the month of September showed a falling off. These new developments of the week raise two very interesting related questions. First, to what extent is labor going to be liquidated? Next, how far will the reaction under way in general trade or Loss of Time. We have a new method that controls Asthma, and we want you to try it at or expense. No matter whether your case of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly.

we especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, oplum preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have falled. We want to show everyone at our expense, that this new method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms at once.

"In my opinion this is not the time for business men to stay awake nights worrying. The time to worry is when you have goods piled up that cannot be sold at any price. That is not the situation today. As I see it the situation is this: We are settling down to a normal basis. We have all got to get it out of our heads that business is going to be resumed on the same basis of the past five years. We are in peace times now, and there is going to be no war-time speculative buying either by the manufacturer or the individual consumer.

"But price lowering will uncover normal buying. That is the big, important, hopeful factor in the whole situation. The reaction now going on in general business is making for easier money as soon as the crop-moving period is over, and easier money makes for better general business conditions all around. Some companies found that they were facing serious trouble with money at 8 per cent. There was no profit; the cost of doing business was too high, and, even worse, merchandise began to pile up. A company facing bankruptcy with money costing 8 per cent might not only be able to squeeze through with money at 6 per cent, but might show a profit.

Locate W. T. Treadwell, Thought to Have Been Drowned.

Athens, Ga., September 25 .- (Special.)-Efforts to find the body of W. T. Treadwell, Oconee county man, thought to have been murdered and his body thrown in the Oconee river from Cemetery bridge, were slackened tonight after a liberal use of dynamite during the day had failed to raise the body day had failed to raise the body from the section of the river in which it would be forced to be by the nature of the shoals across the river, were it in the river at all. On his return from Crawford, Detective Seagraves, who is working on the case, stated that Frank Gunnin and Philip Berry, of Crawford, had been in conversation with Treadwell at the Seaboard passenger station shortly after midnight, while they were waiting for the midnight train.

It has also been definitely established that Treadwell's automobile the supposed murder may have been a blind.

No motive for Treadwell's leaving can be found in business or personal affairs. The missing man cashed checks at the Georgia National bank for $1,000 Thursday, Judge Charles H. Brand, congressman from the eighth district, having identified him at the bank. How much more money he had is not known. He had staged several successful business deals, however, during his trip to Athens, and is supposed to have had a great deal more money on his person. The police are now following two theories, with scant encouragement at the probable truth of either—one that Treadwell was murdered for his money, and the other that he has disappeared on his own account for some unknown reason.

Mrs. Treadwell is prostrated at r some unknown reason. Mrs. Treadwell is prostrated at heir home near Watkinsville over anxiety attendant on the uncer-tainty of her husband's fate. The youngest of their five children is only a few weeks old. She is conan unusually handsom

Worth the Risk.

(From Answers)
A careful mother's three children horrified her one day by producing three bilious looking toffee apples for her inspection.
"They are very pretty, cars," she said bravely, "but you really must not eat them. I have heard of children dying through eating colored toffee apples."
Then sre took the sweetmeats and placed them out of reach—as she thought—on a shelf in her dressing room.
Very early next morning she heard Elsie trotting along the passage, and called her into her bedroom.
"What's my little girl doing up

"What's my little girl doing up so early?" she asked.
"I was going along, mamma, to see if Dick and Arthur are dead yet. I'm not," was the reply.

Miss Alexa Stirling Wins Womens' Canadian Golf Championship

Miss Robertson won the right to oppose Miss Stirling by eliminating the title-holder, Miss McKenzie, 3 and 1.

Today's match drew the largest gallery of the tournament and Miss Stirling had a great many friends in the assemblage. Miss Stirling has a the top of her form and took an early lead, never to lose it, although Miss Robertson showed signs of rallying at times.

The Atlanta girl's tee shots were little short of the remarkable, Miss Stirling having a distinct advantage in this connection. Miss Robertson, who defeated Miss McKenzie through wonderful second shots, displayed considerable skill in this respect this afternoon, but her tee shots were short, and her work on the greens was not at its best.

Not in Best Form.

While it is the general belief among the well-informed of Hamilton, that Miss Stirling would have won, even if Miss Robertson had been shooting at her best, still it cannot be denied that the Canadian woman was not displaying the brand of golf that placed her in the finals against such formidable opposition as offered her by Miss McKenzle Friday afternoon.

The Canadian golf writers have commented at length on Miss Stirling's coolness in the excitement that naturally attaches itself to a tournament as important as the one Not in Best Form.

that naturally attaches itself to a tournament as important as the one concluded here this afternoon. This feature was distinctly brought out Friday in her match with Miss Bauld. Miss Stirling falled to show the slightest trace of nervousness, while Miss Bauld, on the other hand, ruined several opportunities to win, or at least halve, a hole by displaying nervousness on the greens. The tournament is the first ladies' championship affair which has been opened to any but Canadian players and desire now is to aim at an even stronger international touch. The tourney has been a huge success, attracting a field of 172 golfers from coast to coast.

opening game of the season here today.

Harvard started with some fair rushing plays, and with the aid of Holy Cross' fumble, carried the ball to the visitors' seven-yard line. Here Buell dropped an easy field goal from the 18-yard line.

Another Crimson offensive in the third period placed the ball twice on the 18-yard line, but field goal attempts went wide.

Holy Cross, capturing the ball in midfield on a Harvard fumble, in the last period, drove it to the 22-yard line in four plays. Gagnon, after being thrown back for no gain three times, tried a field goal from the 35-yard line, but failed.

The "Thin Red Line" Marches to Great Victory Over S. M. A.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., September 25.— (Special.)—Amid lusty shouts from theusands of Alabama throats, the Crimson-White 1920 football season was ushered in Saturday when the Crimson-White 1920 football season was ushered in Saturday when the Crimson warriors defeated the S. M. A. eleven in a one-sided affair, by the score of 59 to 0.

Although this was the first game of the season for both teams, and was, therefore, in the nature of preparatory work for both of them, still it was snappy and fast throughout. The first quarter was especially lively, for later in the game the S. M. A. lads began to show marks of combat and their enthusiasm waned. This is shown in the fact that in the first quarter the Crimson players were held to one touchdown, while later in the game they scored at will, making two touchdowns in the second quarter, and three each in the third and fourth. The weight and the skill of the Alabama eleven was too much for them, and gaps were made continually through their line by Stevenson, Lenoir, Sewell and Nichols.

Alabama made good gains throughout the game, but there were two sensational runs. One of these was by Lenoir in the third quarter, when he side-stepped fifty yards for a touchdown, and the other was in the fourth, just before the end of the game, when Stevenson went through the S. M. A. line for thirty-five yards and placed the pigskin under the goal. The chief interests of this initial game to Alabama was the bringing out of new material, which has been in process of developing this year.

JENNINGS SAYS YANKS HAVE BALANCED TEAM

Hughey Jennings says the Yankees have been slandered. The Detroit pilot says the critics claim the Yanks can do nothing but slam the pill, while their conduct in recent games against the Tigers show they are particularly adept at bunting and other forms of inside baseball for which they have never received credit. "The Yanks have a well-rounded ball club, and don't forget it." is the way Manager Jennings puts it.

the departure of the popular local hurler for a try-out with the New York Yankees. Sheehan took the mound for the Crackers and when he came up to bat in the latter half of the third inning he was given quite an ovation. He was presented with a black leather traveling bag by his admiring teammates as a token of their high esteem for the valuable service he has rendered for so long to their team, Umpire Steamboat Johnson making the presentation. Sheehan responded with a grin from ear to ear and when the stands pleaded for him to drive the ball out of the park he hoisted a high drive to Heck.

The presenting of the bag seemed to take Tom's mind off his work for a little while, and when the smoke cleared after the first half of the fourth the Columbians had coupled two doubles and a brace of singles together and had tallied twice. As it later turned out these were the very scores that gave the visitors their first and only victory of the series. York Yankees. Sheehan took the strength and glory. And the Red and Black is coming back with a rush.

On September 8, when the first call for candidates went out, some fifty or sixty men reported. Out there on Sandford field there is a glorious wealth of material. They've got the grit, the brawn and the spirit. This combination is going to make things hum this fall.

The coaching staff needs no introduction. Every follower of the grid game knows them. Stegeman, four-letter man at the University of Chicago, the man who produced Georgia's stone wall line last year, is heaf coach and will have special charge of the line. To Jimmy De-Hart, formerly star halfback on the far-famed Pittsburg eleven, will go the task of bringing out a backfield worthy of the line. And he's going to do it.

Cohen Conches Freshmen.

Russ Cohen, famous Vandy end, has charge of the newly-organized freshman team. Feeling sure that the one-year rule will pass, the University of Georgia, after the example of the University of Yirginia and the large northern colleges, has begun this fall to produce a freshman football team, This team with have a schedule of its own and will furnish the material for the varistity of 1921. This freshman team, from present indications, will certainly put out the material for next year's team. But that's-looking too far ahead, perhaps.

The one thing you can't help but notice down on the field is the coaching system employed this year, as contrasted with that employed in previous years. Summed up in a word, this is a process of specialization. Each coach has his own pare ficular work. Oyer in one corner Stegeman has the line under his call the first down a single time, altoward of the fourth quarter.

Pre-season dope anent the strength of the Tornado was justified in the developments of Saturday afternoon, and the Atlanta collegians were returned victors over the Wake Forrest eleven. The final score was 44 to 0, well above the points Wake Forrest was "spotted" by the wise ones. There might have been a bit of disappointment during the first few minutes of pley. VIRGINIA TECH VICTORIOUS IN 1ST GRID ENCOUNTER

Blacksburg, Va., September 25.—
(Special.)—Virginia Tech kicked off the football lid here today, easily defeating Hampden Sidney College, 35 to 0. This is the largest score the locals/have run up on the Prespyterians in the past four years. The forward pass figured very prominently in the scoring today, and Parrish, playing at left end for Tech, made two touchdowns by this style of play.

Halfback Martin, who made two of the five counters credited to of the five counters credited to Tech, played brilliantly. His dashes through the line of scrimmage and around the ends stamped him as the locals' best ground gainer. Fumbles were frequent today, owing to the slippery field, but both teams showed a marked degree of rollish.

AMERICAN STARS WILL PLAY TEAMS OF STATE ON TOUR

The Atlanta American Stars. claimants of the colored basebail championship of the city, will leave in a few days on a road trip that will embrace the entire southwestern and western sections of Georgia. The first game will be played in Macon Wedensday afternoon, and two more will follow with the Bibb county players. The battles are expected to draw large crowds, as a colored fraternal organization will be in convention at Macon during the series. Leaving Macon, the local team journeys to Cordele for one game, going from that city to Albany, where two games will be played.

The outst then jumps to Columbus, and will wind up the jaunt in LaGrange. The American Stars are anxious to take on the Black Crackers for the city title, and it is possible that a series will be arranged between the ancient rivals.

The Oakland Factory Announces Maintenance of Present Prices, for at How Would You Like Least Nine Months.

The Southern Oakland company and all Oakland dealers are authorized by the Oakland Motor Carcompany to announce that no price change from the present basis downward is anticipated prior to July 1, 1921.

It is the well-founded opinion of all manufacturers that the temptation to cut quality is greater when prices are reduced; and being the basic policy of the Oakland Motor Car company to maintain quality in the building of a moderate priced six-cylinder car, the public may expect even greater car value in the Oakland Sensible Six.

At a recent meeting of Oakland dealers and salesmen, conducted by Mr. W. H. Masten, assistant general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company, the above facts were brought forth and are now con-

Essex Famous Endurance Makes It Ideal Business Car

And Its Economy Includes Freedom From Repair Expense, as Well as Great Oil, Fuel and Tire-Mileage

To an unusual extent, business men have come to depend upon the Essex Roadster as an important part of their business system.

They choose it for utility and fast, reliable transit. Service of this sort is far more exacting than any requirements made of a car chiefly used for pleasure and recreation. The Essex Roadster has exceptionally commodious carrying arrangements in the rear deck.

Absence from commission on account of repair needs is not excusable in a business car. It must be on the job, keep all engagements on time and be as responsible as an engineer's watch.

Chiefly it is performance that sets Essex apart. Consider that no carever equalled its 50-hour endurance record of 3037 miles.

And the feat of the Essex in 4 times breaking the transcontinental record between New York and San Francisco is accepted as the greatest endurance proof of all time.

229 Peachtree Street

The fastest Essex time was 4 days, 14 hrs., 43 min., beating the former record by 12 hrs, 48 min., and the average for all 4 Essex cars was 4 days, 21 hrs., 32 min.

And to these add the hundreds of records of all sorts Essex set in a single week of nation-wide contest, using many owner cars; some of which had already seen above 35,000 miles service. Among them it made a new world 24-hour dirt track mark, travelling 1261 miles.

Do these proofs leave any question unanswered about the ability of Essex to meet the most severe demands in business use or for pleasure?

FOR POINTS EAST OF THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER WILL BE SUPPLIED FROM THE ATLANTA PLANT

California plant producing trucks for the past nine years

The increasing demand for the Kleiber Truck and the importance of railroad transportation as a factor in economical truck production has made it necessary to increase Kleiber production, and to establish a plant east of the Mississippi.

Atlanta was selected for this plant nine months ago. A five-acre tract at Park and Peters streets was purchased and paid for. The plant is now nearing completion, and will be producing Kleiber trucks within a few weeks.

Kleiber Trucks have been produced in the San Francisco plant for the past nine years, and are a product of more than a quarter century's experience in building heavy vehicles. They are built in 1, 11/2, 2, 21/2, 31/2, 5-ton capacities, and are available for distribution in this section now from the California plant.

CREDIT SITUATION CLEARING UP, SAYS WM. L. MATHERS

William L. Mathers, president of he Georgia Automotive Dealers association, and southeastern distributor for the Standard Eight automobile, has just completed some exhaustive investigations as to the automobile credit situation, and has the encouraging information that automobile dealers are, in his opinion, being handled at this time with almost the same leniency accorded merchants of other products.

Mr. Mathers has also just returned from a meeting of the National Dealers' association in Chicago, and in his words:

"We dealers in the southeast are having as good or better business than dealers from other sections, though it is evident that the north and east are recovering faster from the present depression than other sections of the country."

Mr. Mathers is one of the "go-get-it" kind of business men, and as evidence of this, his sales force has shown steady sales for the Standard Eight throughout the several months he has been handling this new product of the great Standard Steel Car company of Pittsburg.

Mr. Mathers say that it is hard, even at this time, to secure the popular four-passenger model, which comes in a number of paint jobs, fast enough to keep pace with the

Mr. Estaver states that though the larger Velie is one of the truly popular models of the season, particularly in Florida, that the little Velie is steadily gaining ground in both states.

The numerous Velie dealers in Florida have all found this new Velie model to be popular with a large number of car owners, both for commercial and family use.

This company is now attempting to perfect a real dealer organization in Georgia, where they have had the Velie franchise for only a short time, and Mr. Estaver states that he has many very unusual features in the way of dealer co-operation that have proven highly successful in Florida during the past six years.

When the photographer went to get a photograph of this beautiful new model Paige he naturally started to get a view which would show the unusually beautiful lines from the front, but Fred Tegder stepped in front of the camera with an expression about like this: "Everybody knows that Paige never built a car that did not look good from the front, get a view that will show the rear end."

the country who want to own Cadillacs.
Certainly, the manufacturers, distributors and buyers of Cadillac cars are not aware that anything is wrong with the automobile business. We see no need to "view with alarm." For us, this is a time to "point with pride," as it should be for every manufacturer who regards himself as a trustee, bound to give a full dollar's worth of value to the men who make and sell the product and the people who buy it, and a fair measure of profit to the owners of the business.

At the regular meeting of the Atlanta Automotive Equipment association last Thursday evening in the Chamber of Commerce cafe, many matters of vital importance to the equipment and tire dealer were discussed.

E. H. Baughman, manager of the Ozburn Abston company, was the principal speaker of the evening and his outline of various phases of the trade conditions just at this time were very timely, and highly applauded by those present.

The membership of this association is now nearing forty, and it plans which are now under way are carried forward according to schedule, every equipment firm of high standing in Atlanta will likely be represented within the next few months.

represented within the next few months.

The purpose of the association is to foster higher ethical standards in the trade, good fellowship among each other, and to work for the betterment of the automotive equipment business in general.

It is the wish of the association to have a full attendance at a special called meeting for Thursday evening, October 7, at 7 o'clock, the place to be announced later.

G. H. Hamilton, general sales-manager of the Gillette Rubber company, of Eau Claire, Wis., while visiting the Atlanta branch Satur-day, stated that unquestionably the outlook for the next few months of this year was brighter for the tire manufacturer than for any other this year.

Mr. Hamilton recited the conditions which caused retailers to stock up too heavily last winter and spring, thus creating a false demand upon the manufacturer, who mad his production plans accordingly This caused an over-production dur This caused an over-production during the summer months that could not be absorbed by the retailer.

"But at present," continued Mr. Hamliton, "there is an actual shortage of many sizes of fabric tires, and of nearly every size cord tire, and along with the other big manufacturers we are striving to meet this demand by boosting our production to the highest possible point."

Delint."

L. L. Lowe, manager of the Atlanta branch for this concern, stated Saturday that their sales were increasing steadily, and that their collection has also shown a decided improvement, which would seem to bear out the statement of Mr. Hamilton that better times are here.

L. L. Halle, manager of the La-Fayette Distributing company, an-nounced Saturday that he had se-cured the services of W. B. Midyette, nounced Saturday that he had secured the services of W. B. Midyette, of Richmond, as retail and floor salesman for the LaFayette, which he is now offering for delivery.

Among other features of the LaFayette, it has five main bearings instead of the conventional three. The crankshaft is a hollowed drop forging of large diameter and as every crank throw and connecting rod is located between two main bearings, the rigidity of the shaft is so nearly perfect as practically to eliminate vibration at all engine speeds. The entire center line of the shaft is held permanently true in hand-fitted bearings, lined with anti-friction metal of the highest quality, and the rigid, highly-webbed crankcase has a four-point support, giving the LaFayette exceptional "backbone."

The V motor throughout is remarkable for its lark of complexity and newness of parts. While the N. A. C. C. rating is 33.8, this power plant developes in excess of. 90 horsepower at 2,750 r. p. m. and produces high power from very low engine speeds over an unusually wide range—up to 3,600 r. p. m.

Closer Co-operation Between Dealers and Mfrs. Necessary.

C. A. Pfeffer, president of the Saxon Motor Car corporation, has always emphasized the necessity of closest co-operation existing between distributors of the Saxon Duplex and the factory organization. In pursuance of this policy it is only fitting that Mr. Pfeffer should select Carl H. Page to fill the newly created position of director of sales and advertising for Saxon.

There is probably no man in the automobile industry with a more thorough understanding of the problems of the distributor and dealer than Mr. Page. His experience as a successful distributor of automobiles and advertising for Saxon.

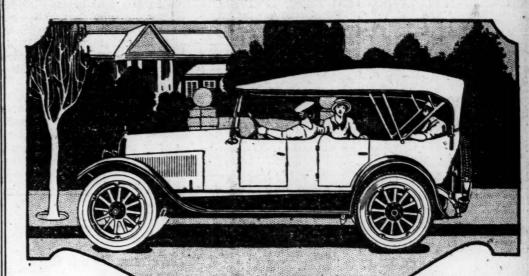

Mr. Page. His experience as a successful distributor of automobiles dates back to the days of the White steamer, when Mr. Page was manager of the White company in New York. Subsequent to his connection with the White company Mr. Page, as president of Carl H. Page company, became one of the most important distributors in the United States. During his career as dealer and distributor Mr. Page has merchandised, in addition to the White, such cars as Chalmers and Jordan. In Joining the Saxon's Internal organization, Mr. Page contributes in addition to his ability and experience, the distributor's slant and the dealer's viewpoint, assuring complete understanding of the problems which confront motor car merchants.

TEPHENS Salient Six

Leadership Won By Its

Greater Value - Greater Service

The gradually growing popularity of the Stephens is due to the definite satisfaction, which this car gives its owners.

It comes from owner appreciation of the finer workmanship and the true beauty and style of Stephens hand-built bodies.

It comes also from owner satisfaction in the greater service of the modern Stephens engine.

An engine that is no respecter of the grades of gasoline you supply it-that burns all the gasoline, thus wasting no fuel and no power.

A salient service, that comes to owners in the form of speed, endurance, flexibility, hill-climbing ability and smooth-riding at their maximum.

Stephens leadership is a just leadership soldidly fixed in the minds of Stephens owners, who agree, that, "To own a. Stephens is to enjoy the "That is salient which height of motor car is strikingly manifest satisfaction."

or which catches the attention at once." Arrange for a demonstration today.

HAYNES SPECIAL SPEEDSTER

the car of $5,000 value at $3,500

SNAP-vim-"go"-exclusiveness-individuality-liveness-pep-alertness-all the qualities and characteristics demanded and enjoyed by those who set the pace and create the style of to-day are embodied in the new Haynes Special Speedster.

In every way it gratifies the eye and satisfies the heart of its owner. Complete to the last little detail, with either the famous six or twelve cylinder Haynes engine beneath the high, power-suggesting hood, it is an epoch-making car. Such a car must be built carefully and skillfully. Largequantity production is not possible. The number we can make is limited, and an immediate selection is urged.

To see this car, to drive it, to note the many thoughtful conveniences and details which mark "class," will give you the natural impression that it must be priced at least at $5,000. We feel it is greatly underpriced at $3,500 yet here again you enjoy the advantages of Haynes manufacturing economies.

TOU have only to remember that I our five passenger Paige Glenbrook is an outgrowth of our experience in the precise methods of war manufacturing to realize that it is a decidedly superior product in the field of light sixes.

It was conceived by Paige engineers during the war period and was brought to perfection only after three years of the most patient research and experimental work.

Its six-cylinder motor is a distinct achievement in engine-building, sur-passing every standard of efficiency

Some Automobile Manufacturers Have Reduced Prices

It Is Likely Others Will Follow

IF YOU ARE figuring on buying a NEW CAR, it isn't unreasonable to believe that you feel a bit PANICKY about investing in a new car just at this time.

On the other hand, take the subject of a GOOD USED CAR. Some one else has already paid the depreciation and we can convince you that if all cars reduce their price 25%, you will still be on the right side of the FENCE, with your USED CAR.

We can show you cars that are a few weeks old that you will say are new, but really are USED CARS. Their owners made big sacrifices and you get the benefit. Such cars as Chandlers, Buicks, Dodges, Paige sport models, Roamers in speedsters, four-passengers and closed types.

If you are a prospect, walk one block from the Candler building to 46 Houston street and it may save you lots of time from Mrs. Maybelle Rawson Hirons property, cash and bonds valued at $61,000, which he claims he turned over to Mrs. Hirons under the influence of messages from the spirit of Miss Barton. The court issued an order temporarily restraining Mrs. Hirons from disposing of any of the property mentioned in the proceedings.

Dr. Hubbell, who at one time was chief of the medical staff of the Red Cross, declared in his bill of compliant that in 1914 Mrs. Hirons informed him that the spirit of Miss Barton had appeared to her and had directed that he turn over to her his property for use in building a memorial to Miss Barton. He further alleges that recently he learned that the memorial project had been abandoned.

the Beginning of National Elimination Race at Birmingham.

STITUTION, ALLANIA, GA., SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1920.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 25.-Eleven of the balloons entered in the National elimination race began here this afternoon to determine America's entrants in the international contest which will start from the same field October 23.

Twenty thousand people surrounded the field as the giant globules took the air, the first off at 4:54 o'clock, followed by the others at short intervals. Only one of the and wreak reprisals upon the popballoons was unable to ascend, due to a defective netting. Quickly Disappeared.

A northwest wind carried the bags away at a speed estimated at between fifteen and twenty miles an hour and they quickly disappeared behind the mountains, one after an-brought their apparatus from Brookfield, Ohio, and spread it out with the loving care of fathers for a spoiled caile. They are veteran balloon flyers and have made almost one hundred flights together in the past ten years.

R. F. Donaldson, of Springfield, Mo., pilot and proprietor of balloon No. 11, had quite a good deal of difficulty in straightening his envelope out, and as a result of the sticking caused by moisture tore several rents in the bag. The holes were mended with adhesive tape and the balloon ascended in line shape. It took the air as swiftly as any of the bubbles except No. 10, representing Little Rock, which ascended more swiftly than any of the others and when it went out of sight was rapidly gaining on No. 9, photed by Bernard von hoffman, of the University of Missouri. Filot Donaldson is starting his one hundred and seveteenth flight.

The arrests were made by Federal Prohibition Agents Hicks, Nations and Whatley and Detectives West and Payne. The man giving his name as Johnson admitted that the name Johnson, under which he gave, bond was fictitious.

TRAVELERS' POST PLANS INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP

At a banquet held Saturday evening by members of Post B. Travelers Protective association at the Mountain Farms cafe, a drive to increase the membership of the post was discussed and suggestions were given by the members for developing the club to make it one of the largest in the country.

A number of speeches were made, the principle speakers being, City Attorney James L. Mayson, Rabbi David Marx, and Robert L. Broyles. More than fifty members and several guests attended the banquet which was one of the most enthusiastic gatherings held by the post for some time.

Plans for the enlargement of the club as suggested by some of the members, met with the most favorable support and it was moved to bring the details before the next meeting. crease the membership of the post

The Tricotine Dress for Autumn Days

GAIN this season tricotine is being launched as the fabric de luxe for the fall - a tribute to the ever increasing popularity of this fabric — and a well-deserved popularity—resting on many virtues. Of the many fabrics which present themselves none is so well adapted to the pliant lines of the well-made tailleur-frock. These dresses are particularly good for wear with furs-and since they are so richly decorated with beads, embroidery and clever stitching one would not wish to cover such handsome effect with a coat.

HEY offer a distinctive costume effect and one no longer looks upon such a blouse as a minor member of the wardrobe. The sketch shows two extremely effective models. These clever modes reveal new phases of artistry and originality. The exclusive versions of this blouse emphasize unusual style and many hand touches are applied with artistic effect.

The Beautiful frocks

for girls and small women shown in our Junior Department is a perennial favorite but this season it emerges fresher and smarter than ever, carefully tailored and trim in appearance. The slender chemise silhouette is a great favorite but its vogue is rivaled this season by the appearance of the coat frock on redingote lines. Lavish embroidery and beaded effects give it an air of sumptuousness but at times it relies for effect on its very simplicity.

Asheville, N. C., September 25.—
There is the note of patriotism in the air, and all of Asheville is on the committee to welcome the Thirtleth division of the A. E. F., that part of the American Legion identified with the title "Old Hickory," which will meet, here next Monday and Tuesday.

Even the tourists and that large element of people who are still "resorting" here are interested in the forthcoming relebration.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, General E. M. Lewis, who was with the division when it broke the "Hindenburg line," and who was for a brief period commander at Camp Gordon, Atlanta; General Laurence D. Tyson, of Knoxville, who was with the division in most stirring it times; General George W. Read and General Johnson Haygood, who is now commanding the department of the east; Governor Cooper, of Couth Carolina; Governor Roberts, of Tennessee, will be among the distinguished guests of honor at reunion ceremonies. They will, all of them, be the guests of Mr. F. L. Seely at Grove Park Inn.

To Have Staff.

Governor Bickett will have his staff with him to include Colonel Scott, Major Lyerly, Major Jenkins, Major Leonard, Major Smith and Adjutant General Van B. Metts, and these also will be the guests of Mr. Seely.

Mrs. Read will accompany General Read and Mrs. Bickett will be with Governor Bickett, she having made, many friends in Asheville when she was here, a member of the United States Woman's Training camp several weeks ago. eral weeks ago

Woman's Part

The women of the seven larger churches of Asheville have undertaken the feeding of the more than 12,000 men who are expected and who will be lodged in the private homes of Asheville, as well as in the hotels and public bhildings to be made comfortable for lodgers. Besides the voluntary hospitality to be extended the legion men, the city government and the board of trade have made contributiors to the occasion: a subscription list is still being circulated among Asheville's prominent citizens. The women have had a tag day for the raising of funds.

During the day the program will include addresses by the legion men and honor guests, and there will be music by many bands from warlous centers in Tensessee, North and South Carolina.

Brilliant balls in the hotels of the city, the Masonic tempte and other avallable places, the two evenings of the reunion, and many smaller entertainments are planned in private homes.

Theater Season

Is Opened.

While the summer program of al fresco parties continues with golf and dancing at the Country club, and entertainments at the Battery park, the Manor and the Grove Park. Inn, the theatrical season had bright Minnie Maddern Fiske in "Miss Nelly of N'Orleans," by Dr. Larence Eyre. In the title role she had a part admirably suited to her, and she was more than enchanting. It was a comedy of moonlight, madness and make-believe, and in it she sustained herself as the artist.

Attractive Visitors

At the Inn.

Added to the autumn tourists at the Grove Park Inn, are Mrs. Frank Steinhart, of Havana, Cuba, and her attractive young daughter, Miss Alice Steinhart. They will be joined later by Miss. Florence Steinhart, who is now visiting in New York, and who will be welcomed by many friends in Asheville made on previous visits.

Mrs. Robert Neely, of Waynesboro, Ga, and her charming daughter, Mrs. James Palmer, of Atlanta, spent the week at the Inn, and were closing their paiatial summer home here on the Victoria road. This home is on the Connoily hill, considered by many the most wonderful viewpoint in or around Asheville.

It was occupied last winter by Dr. and Mrs. S. Westry Battle, who are now in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raoul will continue to reside in their cottage on the Manor grounds, though they have sold the property of the Manor to Dr. E. W. Grove, who plans the enlargement and improvement of it.

ORIENTAL RUGS At Great Reduction

Our Importation of $100,000 Due Soon

CONSIGNMENT of Oriental rugs valued at $100,000 has been shipped to us in New York direct from Persia, and is expected to arrive shortly.

The demand for these rugs is so great that they will be placed in New York immediately on their arrival.

To lay our hands on these goods, however, we have to pay 50 per cent for duty in cash. Present shortage of money forces us to find a means of raising this amount. To raise money one has to make certain sacrifices, and we thought it best to let our Patrons in Atlanta reap the benefit of this situation. The great and most gorgeous stock of Oriental rugs that we now have on our floors ready for inspection, is a previous shipment to us direct from Persia. They include the very best specimens of the Oriental rug in every make, color and size. In fact, it is the largest and the finest collection ever been seen in these

The cost of these rugs is much less than the ones that are now arriving, and the prices marked in plain figures on each rug represent a cost of at least 25 per cent cheaper than in any store in any part of the country.

This is the collection that we have decided to offer the general public at great sacrifice. Having explained our immediate need for cash, we wish our patrons to take advantage of this unique opportunity, which may never oc-

At Wanamaker's sale with 25 per cent off, the whole stock of Oriental rugs was almost cleared out in one week.

Starting from today, we have decided to allow 20 per cent discount on our marked prices during the following two weeks, which will mean that every rug sold during this period will be cheaper than the wholesale values of the New York market.

Every rug purchased from us is direct from Persia to your home

Needlework Guild.

The Needlework Guild of America held its thirty-fifth anniversary in atlantic City this past May.

Though during these years it has proved itself a vastly successful and growing organization—there are many who have still to learn of its object and purposes—some there may even be who are learning of its existence for the first time.

Mather, but pupils from the city as well.

Miss Erwin has fifteen children in the kindergarten and a number of pupils in expression as well. Miss Erwin, like Miss van Gelder, has been at the Elizabeth Mather since it opened five years ago.

The literary societies held their first meetings last Thursday and started off with a bound.

On Monday the boarding students elected Miss Martha Halsey, of Montgomery, as president of student government, and last Eloise Lee, of Grantville, Ga., as president of Y. W. C. A. The latter had its first meeting on Sunday night.

The Elizabethan society gave a ing of its existence for the first time.

For this purpose it seems advisable to quote some of the interesting statistics from the national meeting. A membership exceeding 500,000 women—delegates from nearly every state in the union, and over $15,000 new garments distributed during the past year—and in passing it would be apropos to state that Atlanta alone has contributed over 65,000 new garments since its organization, over 5,000 being distributed last year.

This should prove the necessary impetus to spur us on to better and bigger things, for there are 225,000 people in Atlanta, according to census returns, and many small places in other parts of the country double their collection by population each year.

The national organization is of

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. each year.
The national organization is of The national organization is of incalculable assistance in war relief work, as they have always been affiliated with the Red Cross, and possess many grateful letters from French organizations and individuals, thanking them for help so desperately needed. The St. Quentin district was especially assigned to the Needlework guild.

The delegates from the convention pictured graphically the sad devastation.

The Atlanta branch, however, devoting all its energies to local relief work. It is one in which we all take an interest, and in which we may all share. The new garments once a year, or money if preferred, entitle us to full membership, with absolutely no further obligations until the following year.

Returns With Bride.

Americus, Ga., September 25.—Mr. Robert Boyd Stackhouse and his bride, who was before her marriage Miss Antoinette Constance Potter. of Le Mans, France, have arrived in America and are spending a few days with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Stackhouse, at their summer home at Saluda, N. C. Mrs. Stackhouse is the daughter of Professor Constant D. Potier. of the University of Le Mans, before the war he was professor of French at the University of Moscow, Russia. Mrs. Stackhouse is a young woman of unusual culture and grace of manner. She speaks English very fluently, and is very much pleased with the cordiality with which she has been received in America. Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse will return to Americus, Ga. in a few days where they will make their home.

For Miss Godby.

Mr. W. A. Montgomerv entertained at a theater party Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Willie Godby, of Savannah, who stopped over in the city for a few days en route to Sullin's college, Bristol. Va. Those in the party were Miss Godby, Miss Martha Snagill, Miss Pauline Holloway, Messrs. John Godby. Joe Hester, Judson McConnell and W. A. Montgomery. Miss Godby was joined by her cousin, Miss Josephine Godby, of Savannah. Wednesday morning and left for Bristol, Va.

ELIZABETH MATHER.

The Elizabeth Mather began its seventh session on September 15 with a gratifying increase in numbers and a fine quality of students. The repeated assertion of the school that it wants only students who will study is beginning to show results. Girls from Florida

Georgia and Alabama make up the party on Saturday in honor of lormitory personnel, while Atlanta President Loveridge's birthday, and heretofore. Miss Olive Walker, of Atlanta, is president of the Victorians this year and Margaret Details. one of last year's contestants in the debate, heads the Elizabethans. The rivalry between these two literary clubs is interesting and wholesome. Dean Hatfield, who comes from the presidential candidate city of Dayton, has installed a new laboratory method of study. shington Dispatch, pertaining to the American Red Cross priations of $48,200,000 have been made for the American relief program during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1921. The $21,000,000 less than that appropriated last year.

delief work in foreign lands will comprise nearly two-thirds of dget, the estimate of $31,000,000 for activities abroad being based ports to the Red Cross tending to show that 'Central Europe another winter of famine, pestilence and ruin.

Physicians who investigated the situation at the behest of the eague of Red Cross societies have given their unqualified opinion that the coming winter will see a recurrence of typhus on an unprecedented scale,' said an official announcement here today, 'the Red Cross feels that it must continue preventive measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States."

Added to the permanent program of the American Red Cross, a part of which is quoted above, and which deals with foreign relief not only on the sacred principle of "Love thy neighbor as thyself," but as a protective measure for the United States, there are new features of the home program which require consideration of the budget and the sustaining of it.

These new features include the encouragement of public health nursing service, with the obvious purpose of better public health service in this country. .

A practical example of the expediency of the public nursing service, has been splendidly demonstrated in that of the Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross, which service was established a little over eight

Seven nurses are already in the service under the efficient direc-

The records of the service are open for observation in the chapter headquarters, 63½ Whitehall street, and the sympathy and co-operation of the public is asked in the work.

The Community Pageant And the Drama League.

The Atlanta branch of the Drama League is taking the initiative op in applying one of the highest principles of the national organization, that of taking the drama to the people and then making the

Too long the drama, like painting and better music has represented an aristocracy in the arts. It has been a detached force put on in the own hall; witnessed by the few who were willing to pay the price, not who could pay the price. Just as painting in the minds of too many has been a great picture hung in a dimly lighted gallery, which could only be penetrated by the chosen ones, and better music-a something which was lifted far up into hoxes of a big opera house, with prohibitive prices of admission

Now the Drama League will produce drama in one of its greatest forms the pageant, and that in God's great out-of-doors-the stage, the park at Lakewood during the Southeastern Fair.

Verily the community will take part, in that every organization, whether educational, religious, fraternal, industrial, cultural or prac-

Individuals will cultivate their genius, talents and accomplishments, and the public at large is asked for its co-operation.

In this as in all dramas or expressions of the drama, such unison of forces is necessary. The audience which is the public at large is one of these forces, and the Drama League, when putting on the community pageant at Lakewood, is going to come wonderfully near proving one of the sayings of the world's greatest dramatists so far: "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely

So important is the community pageant as an educational factor, that the Girl's High school of Atlanta is going to make study of it a part of the fall program in educational dramatics.

The high school has a unit in the general pageant, which will draw from the universities and colleges for units no more necessary than the group of little children from the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills who so recently put on at the mills their own pageant, and who will become an integral part of the community pageant.

The success of the event is going to depend largely upon the support the community will give the Drama League in what is a stupendous undertaking but one brilliantly ambitious and praiseworthy.

High School Girls Ambitious For College Careers

Nothing more surely bespeaks the spirit and standard of the Girls' High school of Atlanta than the fact that out of the 105 girls in the graduating class of 1920, 44 of these will go to college, and have already selected the colleges to which they will go.

Their choice of colleges follow:

Agnes Scott college, 20; Goucher, 1; Wellesley, 1; Columbia, 1; Sophie-Newcomb, 2; University of Georgia, 2; Oglethorpe, 3; Sargent School of Physical Education, 1; Winston-Salem, 1; West Hampton, 1; Wesleyan, 1; Shorter, 3; Georgia Normal and Industrial college, 2; Bessie Tift, 2; Hollins institute, 1; Averett college, 1; National Park

That these young women who go from the high schools to the colleges and from there to the universities make most creditable records is proven in a recent report which Miss Jessie Muse, principal of the Girls' High school, has recently received from an instructor of Chicago university relative to Miss Hanna Gossman, a graduate and scholarship girl from the Girls' High school.

She was a member of the class of 1919, and entered the university the fall of that year.

"Her work in history and English is especially strong," cites the report. "In these subjects, and especially in physics, philosophy and modern languages she stands well above the average of the class of

Enrollment the second day of this year's school term, 1920-1921, is 1,017, an increase of 70 over the second day of the term last year. There are over 400 in the incoming first grade, which is a splendid oportion of the number of girls who finished Atlanta's grammar

Every one of these 400 came with ideas as definite about the one of three courses which they desired to take as the 44, who, in the graduating class, have determined to go to college on leaving high

This same idea of initiative, which is one of the most valuable assets the girl of today can have, is encouraged in every branch of modern education today, and has its first lesson in the kindergarten. It is an expression of self-reliance which should be instilled into the mind of every American child, and leads to many developments in character and good citizenship. A sense of initiative not only enables a boy, early in life, to find himself in whatever avocation he may choose, but it helps the girl decide even before she reaches the high school that she intends to work for a college training.

President Appoints Mrs. Boardman Commissioner.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, former ly national secretary of the Ameria can Red Cross, and one of the bestknown women in the United States, has been appointed by the post of commissioner of the District of Co-lumbia. Word was received here today that Miss Boardman, following the president's request, would accept. Louis Brownlow, one of the mmissioners, will retire from of-

News that Miss Boardman had been selected by the president for the post came as a surprise. She is regarded as an extremely capable executive, and is familiar with the needs and problems of the district. She is a republican. She has long been an intimate friend of the Taft family, and it is said that former President Taft urged her to accept the appointment.

family, and it is said that former President Taft urged her to accept the appointment.

Miss Boardman will be the first woman to hold the office of commissioner of the district. She will be one of the chief officials of a section of territory in which neither men nor women have a vote.

Miss Boardman was born in Cleveland and came here with her parents in 1895. Her family became socially prominent and Miss Boardman allied herself with many movements for civic betterment. She became a close friend of President Taft when he was appointed secretary of war, and accompanied the Taft party to the Orient.

She was the active head of the Red Cross during the Messina earthquake, floods in the Mississippl valley and other disasters. In the war she made a number of inspection trips to battle fronts and also organized the Woman's Volunteer Aid in this country. She has given up her work with the national council of the Red Cross, but is still head of the District of Columbia chapter. Miss Boardman's parents, William and Florence Sheffield Boardman, are dead. She lives in their former home at 1801 P street.—New York Times.

The New Girl Discussed By a Batchelor Critic

"Yes, she is here; I saw two of made the thoughtful wonder her last night-the 'new girl' the the bachelor who has "arrived" these many years, and apparently put romance behind him, as he whiles away his time at one resort

"She has something of the perfume of the 'old lavendar' about her in her dainty modish frocks, and notice how low her voice is as she eans forward and coquettes-for she is a coquette!

"When she goes to town, she goes in her father's car; she has her meals with the family, and she sits with, or always near them. She has beaux, plenty of them, and they show her charming attentions.

"She dances beautifully, with none of the vulgar affectations, and she is a bright light in the wilderness of young women who have been running wild socially in this country of ours."

"Mrs. Hartley, who is by no means as reactionary as Mrs. George suggests, might well reply by quoting one of his own felicitous phrases:
'The heart which beats under a shirtwaist of mercerized cotton is akin to the heart which beat under the fig leaves of Eden.' It is true that the war-working woman, who that the war-working woman, who is mainly in question, was more given to silk than to cotton, and Mr. George's anatomy seems as open to question as his modistery; yet by and large the phrase is undoubtedly felicitous. In effect, however, it is a damaging backlash. The sphere of Eve was manifestly in the home. It will not do to argue that this was only because the hotel apartment house and the cabaret, which Mr. George so philosophically accepts, had not as yet been invented. Even Eve's solitary excursion as far as the orchard was a lamentable failure. Beyond question her heart was attuned to resangustae domi; and, between tion her heart was attuned to res angustae domi; and, between Adam's deplorable lack of gallantry and the argument between Cain and Abel, she had her full share of the sacrifice and service which Mrs. Hartley desires for the modern woman and which Mr. George repudiates. By the critic's own showing, woman is today, as always, fashioned primarily for wifehood and motherhood. Even though it bettue, as he alleges, that 'every woman is a rake at heart,' she is infelicitous when raking the orchard, and one shudders to think what might have come upon us if she had set out to rake the cabaret."

Importance of Federation Convention

A prominent Georgia club woman, Mrs. A. P. Brantley, vice president-at-large of the Georgia Federation, who is a native Georgian, stated at a recent meeting of the executive board that on no visit or travel, either in this country or abroad, had she experienced the same real joy she had in visiting through her own state—during the conferences held this year by the district conferences of the Georgia Federa-

"I have always been proud of my native state, and proud of being a Georgian," said Mrs. Brantley, "but I found I really only knew my state vaguely and the people of it, and I found the warmest pleasure in meeting the women of the state face to face and knowing them, and really that we all had common cause of state and country, and that Motion Pictures.

Mrs. Alonso Richardson, state chairman of civics, issues the following official notice to district chairmen:

"This is the last call for the pictures for our 'civics' exhibition at the federation convention in November. The pictures must leave Atlanta by October 1 in order that the slides may be ready in time. If your district is not represented I shall be greatly disappointed. If you have not done so, send your pictures to me at once or it will be too late.

"Please help me make this fea-"Please help me make this fea-turing our department the success it should and must be."

All hospitality will be general. There will be no group entertain-ments, but each function will in-clude in its invitation all the con-ments, but each function will include in its invitation all the convention.

Luncheons and suppers will be given by Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., the three Atlanta chapters, D. A. R., Uncle Remus Memorial association, Fifth District Federation, City Federation, Atlanta Woman's club. Headquarters will be the Georgian Terrace hotel, where one entire floor has been set aside for the club women, and the meetings will be held at St Mark's church. Credentials will be presented to the committee at the Georgian Terrace Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Among the special features of interest will be the opening session Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Among the special features of interest will be the opening session Wednesday evening when addresses of welcome will be made by Governor Dorsey, Mrs. Irving Thomas, president Atlanta Woman's club; Mrs. A. P. Coles, president of the City Federation; Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president Fifth District; Mayor James L. Key and greetings from the general federation director for Georgia.

The responses to the addresses of welcome will be made by Mrs. James Callaway, of Columbus.

Each business session will be opened after the invocation by assembly singing, directed by club women, with some prominent soloist as leading voice, and each district is invited to include in its representation some singer who can take this lead at one meeting.

sentation some singer who can take this lead at one meeting.

The session Thursday afternoon will be a symposium in which district presidents will answer in brief the questions: "What is your district's greatest problem? and how are your clubs helping in its solution?"

At this time Mrs A. P. Brantley will present the gavel to the district president, in whose district there has been the largest increase in the number of clubs federated since the last convention.

Club Presidents.

A conference of club presidents will have for one of its valuable features suggestions for club program's conference, these suggestions to be planned with special deference to the small club in the rural community, the small club in the rural community, the small club in the rural community, the small town club, the city club and the county federation. The speakers will be drawn from every part of the state—Mrs. J. P. McAnally, of Augusta; Mrs. Gordon Chason, of Bainbridge; Mrs. M. L. Duggon, of Clayton; Mrs. J. L. Beesom, of Milledgeville (Baldwin county federation.)

Visual Education.

Another striking event will be a program devoted to the possibilities in "visual education," Mrs. L. S. Arrington, of Augusta, in charge. This will include motion pictures, showing the federation's work in civics; Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, the chairman, in education, with Miss Nannie Davis, interpreting Tallulah Falis school pictures, and Miss Marcia Bückhois, chairman of art, showing what can be done in the way of illustrated lectures.

Education, thrift, conservation, civics, domestic arts, public health, library extension, citizenship, legislation, industrial and social conditions, will be some of the federation interests overed in special reports.

Citizenship Resolution.

The resolutions which the executive board passed to be submitted to the convention are as follows:

A resolution introduced by Mrs. Charles J. Haden, chairman of citizenship committee:

be decided upon by the membership committee.

From the Blennial.

Special reports made at the executive board meeting included brief recitals by Mrs. Hays, the president, and by Mrs. Noel Park, of Greensboro, of their impressions of the biennial in Des Moines. Mrs. Hays explained the decision which discontinued the general federation magazine. The federation had not sufficient funds to cover the deficit incurred annually by the publication, of which the circulation was not sufficient to command the advertising which would carry it. Periodical bulletins instead will be sent to the state directors who will distribute them through district presidents.

Mrs. Hays also announced the appointment of Mrs. Frank Lawson, of
